A NEW LOCAL RECORD.

St. Cuthbert, the speedy son of St. Carlo, came very nearly equaling the American record for six furlongs at Worth yesterday. He negotiated the distance in 1:12½, winning easily. The time is two-fifths of a second faster than the previous track mark. Of the seven that started in the fifth race Federal was made a decided first choice, but the best he could do was to run third. To a fair start Little Jack Horner opened up a big gap in the first quarter, leading by two and a half lengths, but near the turn for home St. Cuthbert, which had always laid second, moved up on him fast and passing him easily won by a half length from St. Minor, which beat Federal one and a half for second place. St. Minor showed marked improvement over his last race, finishing with a splendid burst of speed. Federal began slowly, but made up ground fast in the last quarter and finished going fast. Andes ran up to the good form he has shown of late. Tom Kingsley was entangled at the start and hopelessly beaten off by the time he got into his stride.

The first race of the day, a five furlongs scramble for maiden two-year-old colts, proved to be an easy thing for the favorite, Bad News, which simply played with the field, winning in a big canter by five lengths from Swiftwing, which beat Double O. one for second place. Swiftwing showed much speed for his first start, and also showed gameness under punishment. Double O. ran a good race and bears watching from now on. Angelo ran well for about a half mile. Harry Jacob showed some early speed.

The second race, a dash of one and one-sixteenth miles for three-year-olds, went to the odds-on favorite Chickadee. Except for a short distance while going down the backstretch, where Irma's Choice led her by a short margin, she was always in front, coming away easily in the last eighth and winning as her rider pleased by two and one-half lengths from Irma's Choice, which beat Best Man a neck for second place. Irma's Choice showed to advantage and stood a long stretch drive with gameness. Best Man was the victim of an ill judged ride. He closed up ground fast in the last quarter and was steadily wearing down Irma's Choice in the closing strides. Prue showed some early speed, but Goldaga ran a dull race and was never a serious factor. Landseer ran to the outside rail when turning for home, but was badly beaten at the time.

My Surprise won the third race, a six furlongs scramble for two-year-olds, with comparative ease. There was a strong backing for Will Shelly on the strength of his St. Louis form, but the best he could do was to run third. To a fair start My Surprise took the lead and, showing speed throughout, was never headed, winning by two lengths easily from Jackfull, which beat Will Shelly two for second place. Jackfull was a little dull of early speed, but closed up fast in the last eighth and finished strongly. Will Shelly tired fast when the pinch came. He was probably a shade short and the race should do him good. Albemarle showed some early speed, but the others might just as well have remained in their stalls as far as cutting any figure in the race was concerned.

Caliban ran right up to the splendid form he has shown of late and had little trouble in annexing the purse of the fifth race, a dash of one mile and seventy yards for all ages, to his owner's credit. He led all the way by a safe margin, winning in a canter by three-quarters of a length from Marque, which beat Lendin the same distance for second place. Marque was cut off at the half mile post, but finished strongly, running next to the inside rail in the final eighth when she got clear sailing. Lendin showed much improvement over the poor form he has displayed of late and ran an excellent race. He outstayed Aurie B. in the last eighth struggle for third place. The latter ran a good race and stood a long stretch drive.

To the surprise of many present King Barleycorn won the last race, a dash of one and an eighth miles, easily by a length from Jena, which beat Rasselas a neck for second place. He led from start to finish and at no time was ever in serious trouble. Jena was cut off badly while going down the backstretch and was also taken wide when turning for home. She finished strongly, but on her own courage, as Fuller, who rode a poor race, was of little help to her throughout. Rasselas finished stoutly and ran his usual honest race. Sarilla tired fast when the pinch came.

The day was ideal for racing purposes and the best crowd of the week was present. Betting was brisk and heavy throughout the afternoon.

LOCAL TURF GOSSIP.

McChesney, which starts in the Liberty Handicap today, will attempt the remarkable task of carrying 130 pounds and defeat the best handicap horses in training in the west. Should he be successful in carrying the heavy burden past the judges' stand in the van of his field his many admirers can well proclaim him the horse of the year—east or west, age or sex.

Green B. Morris will ship all his horses now at the local track to California next Sunday. Jockey Donnelly, who recently signed to ride for Mr. Morris, will leave next Sunday for Latonia, where he will ride for a week or ten days, then journey to the coast and rejoin his new employer.

Durnell & Herz landed three purses yesterday with My Surprise, St. Cuthbert and Caliban. All the horses were ridden by Buchanan.

St. Cuthbert reduced the Worth six furlong record two-fifths of a second and placed the mark at 1:12½, this is within one-fifth of a second of the American record for six furlongs on a circular track. The record being held jointly by Bummer and Lux Casta. The former carrying only 80 pounds was the first to establish the record at Kinloch Park, St. Louis, Oct. 17, 1900. Lux Casta with 111 pounds up ran the six furlongs in 1:12 at Brighton Beach, July 23, 1902.

Bad News, which won the opening race yesterday, thereby graduating from the maiden class, was at one time considered by Woodford & Buckner, his owners, the superior of Dick Welles, having beat the latter in his trials over the Harlem track.

Le Roy Bros. and A. B. Willis arrived yesterday with their horses from the Canadian circuit.

Caliban, by his victory in the fifth race yesterday, incurred a five-pound penalty in the Liberty Handicap, to be decided today.

Many stables left Worth yesterday for Latonia, which meeting begins today, and will continue for twenty-five days.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

A dispatch from Detroit to the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune of Wednesday said:

"Failure to make a success of running meetings at the Windsor course will cause the dropping of that track from the Northern Circuit, R. C. Chambers, one of the lessees of the plant, making the admission in the Russell House lobby last evening. Mr. Chambers, senior partner of the booking syndicate of Chambers & Walker, was in the city for a short time on his way to Hot Springs, where he is connected with several poolrooms.

"We will pass Windsor by," said Mr. Chambers, "as we find that meetings over there do not pay. In the first place, the street car service is inadequate, and the lack of facilities for handling patrons and the rains have caused Messrs. Wagner, Walker and myself to relinquish control of the track. The lease expires early next year and we will not renew it."

"Mr. Chambers accidentally hinted that the lessees of the Windsor track had designs on the Grosse Pointe course. He understood that the track would be put up at auction in December, in which event their agents will be here to bid for it. A meeting will then be held in the summer, but under arrangements with the Highland Park Jockey Club. Mr. Chambers would not say. Running meetings have been held at the track before at which time the sport here compared favorably with the game down east. The best horses in the country were here then."

"About suspending winning riders," said Judge J. A. Murphy, "I have had a world of abuse heaped upon me for suspending winning jockeys. I suspended Lester Reiff when he was the star of the coast. I was torn to pieces for doing it. Reiff got up again, went to England and you know what happened there. Then the American papers accused the English authorities of racial jealousy, conspiracy and every other crime for doing just what the American authorities had done before them."

"I set Milton Henry down for unfair work and again did I catch it. Henry got up, went to France and they have set him down there."

"I set Chorn and Hinrichs down, and there was hades to pay. They were winning riders. Little Pete confessed, and it was all over."

"I have to laugh sometimes at our patriotic newspapers. American authorities rule half a dozen people off. They go to Europe, succeed for a while, and make a reputation. Then the European authorities get 'next,' and do what the American authorities did before them. Then the American press has a jingo fit, because the foreign judges and stewards confirm the decision of the American judges and stewards."

"It is a strange turf, this of ours. If an American forger, burglar or thief escapes from this country and is caught and convicted in Europe, we do not make a fuss. But when American authorities catch a thief on the turf and brand him, and he goes abroad and the foreign authorities nail him and brand him again, we feel that it is a casus belli, instead of feeling complimented, as we should feel."

"Almost every jockey or trainer ruled off by English and French authorities has been previously ruled off by American authorities. Sloan and Johnnie Reiff are exceptions. I notice as a rule that the American turfmen in England, who bore good reputations here before they went over, bear the same reputations there, and vice versa. The leopard does not change his spots in a voyage across the pond."—St. Louis Republic.

Tip Gallant, the old black gelding which won two steeplechase races at Morris Park this week, ran in and out on the flat at Fort Erie for several seasons. Tom Crooks, who has the bar privilege at the Fort Erie track, bought Tip Gallant and tried to make a good horse of him. He tired of the effort and this year Tip Gallant was put up at auction at the Fort Erie track. The highest bid was $50 and Crooks refused it, saying he would turn the old horse out to pasture. One day Crooks went into the field to see how Tip Gallant was treating the clover, and Tip Gallant, fearing he was to be returned to the racing game, jumped over a four-foot fence and ran away. Crooks decided that if Tip Gallant could jump fences for fun he could do it for money, and he put the son of Top Gallant to school with such success that the first time Tip Gallant is beaten every sport in Hamilton and Toronto will be penniless.

Judge Phillips, recently winner of a steeplechase at Morris Park, has a history. Several years ago he was purchased by Pabst, the brewer, who wanted to use him as a saddle horse. The horse was so vicious that he was positively dangerous, so Mr. Pabst sold him to G. Schwartz, his present owner, for $200. Schwartz had so much trouble with the animal that he turned him over to Harry Graham to be schooled over the jumps. Graham, instead of going after the horse with a whip, adopted more humane methods, so that in time he made the gelding peaceful and inoffensive. Nowadays anybody can get into the horse's stall without fear of being bitten.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Lucien Appleby has leased Silver Brook, his famous stock farm at Shrewsbury, N. J., to Charles F. Hill. Mr. Hill will move there next week. He has leased the farm for three years. Silver Brook is said to be the most complete stock farm in the country. Hill was the trainer of Clarence H. Mackay's race horses until the death of John W. Mackay caused his son to give up the turf.

Dick Welles, the crack Western two-year-old, which received an injury in his work a few days ago, seems to have recovered and is going strong and well again. He was on the track at Morris Park Wednesday morning with others of the Respass string and showed no signs of his recent trouble.

Christopher J. Fitzgerald is on the rapid road to recovery from his recent illness. He has been out doors for the past week and has gone to London, Ontario, for several weeks. Mr. Fitzgerald will resume his usual winter engagement as starter at New Orleans on Thanksgiving Day.

Owners interested will take notice of the fact that a payment of $25 is due November 1 for entries in the New Louisville Jockey Club's $6,000 Nursery Stakes for 1903. This important race is to be decided at the spring meeting next year.

G. E. In the first case you are entitled to the return of your money only. In the second case you are entitled to a place bet, the added starter not counting except as to the extent it might have affected the odds.

Jockey Lyne said recently that he would not ride in San Francisco this winter, but would probably be in the saddle for a while at New Orleans. He will sail for England to ride for James R. Keene early next year.

F. W. C., Chicago. Cock Robin did not run second, and that pertinent fact seems to settle the case against you. To win a parolée the horses you back must run as you wager they will.

Ebul, Detroit, Mich. We have no complete list of the horses owned by E. J. Arnold & Co. You might obtain it by addressing the firm, care of Worth Jockey Club, this city.

E. K., Chicago. A wager of the kind you describe should be called off if it was a mistake. Of course it would go if both parties had agreed to it.

R. J. W., Chicago. A wins his bet on Lux Casta to run second subject to a reduction to the extent that Olefant affected the odds.

Schell, Chicago. We have no knowledge of the St. Louis people you inquire about and would advise you to steer clear.

C. A. H., Chicago. Legal Maxim's last start was at Hawthorne August 28. He is at present at Los Angeles, Cal.

F. L. C., Chicago. The backer having declared that he was backing the named jockey's mount solely loses.

R. C., Detroit, Mich. The jockeys Booker recently riding at St. Louis and Fort Erie are different persons.

J. K., Chicago. Mr. Hildreth is not allowed to race his horses over tracks controlled by the Jockey Club.

E. K. Your wager is void as to Lucien Appleby and wins on McChesney and Hayward Hunter.

John A. Drake's race horses will be shipped to Cumberland Park, Nashville, on Monday.

Brockmiller, St. Louis, Mo. Silurian was 1 to 2 to show in his race at Worth October 20.

H. S., St. Louis, Mo. See answer to R. J. W., in this issue.

Subscriber, Chicago. Circus was "out" to show in 35769.

V. G., Chicago. Backers of Gold Money lost.

For the June meeting, 1905—The Lawrence Realization.

"Pittsburg Phil" (George E. Smith) has engaged "Phil" McGovern, brother of "Terrible Terry," to ride and exercise his horses for next year. The young plunger believes that "Phil" will ultimately become proficient as a jockey if he only receives proper tuition. He has placed the boy in the care of "Bill" Smith, his brother, and told the brother to give him every chance to learn. "Phil" McGovern has not been a startling success as a jockey. While he has the build and the muscle, experts who, on account of his relationship, have studied him, say his hands are not fine enough to make a crack jockey.

Secretary Crickmore issued a circular to owners and trainers recently to the effect that in future men and boys bringing horses to the paddock must be neatly dressed, wearing either coats or sweaters and having their badges in plain sight. After this persons not having badges will be excluded from the paddock at the Westchester track.

Newton Bennington has a yearling colt over on his New Jersey farm who is by Albert—Bonnie Ola, hence a full brother to Herbert and Bonnibert. Bennington has named the colt Bath Beach and says that he believes he has a world beater in him. The youngster has shown both speed and stamina in his trials.

Don't Pay in Advance

I am betting commissioner for two of the largest stables in training in the East and occasionally know a winner. In fact I know of several that will win at good odds in the next fifteen days. Also know of two that have gone to Chicago to be let down for a killing. All I ask of you is to place a small bet on for me and send me the winnings after the race. Be honest with me and I will put you next to the best you ever had. To secure me against refusing to pay for telegram send sufficient to cover payment of first telegram. Address

Went to post at 3:17. At post 5 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second easily. Ed L. ran a somewhat dull race, but caught Santa Ventura tiring and won in the last stride. Santa Ventura showed considerable speed and fully ran her race. Parnassus closed up fast and was probably best. Kiss Quick, badly ridden, finished strongly. Lady Idibis showed speed but tired. So did Messina. Clonsilla can do much better and ran an unaccountably bad race.

Winner—B. f. by Strathmore—Lady Lond (trained by T. P. Hayes).
Went to post at 3:45. At post 11 minutes. Start good. Won in a drive; second easily. Lady Strathmore was beautifully rated behind the pacemaker. Dale made his move at the stretch entry and the mare responded gamely. When she caught Jack Demund, Steele placed his horse in front of her and bore her out all through the stretch, but Dale skillfully overcame the interference and won. Jack Demund set a roaring pace, and, although he tired in the final quarter, he finished gamely. Siddons closed up a lot of ground and was going strongly at the end. Brutal ran well to the mile, but his light rider could not assist him at the end and allowed him to run out in the stretch. Pinochle showed speed and went to the mark.

The latter finished with a tremendous rush and was probably best, but was given a weak finish. Lux Casta, nearly left, trailed to the stretch where she closed a big gap. Francesco was overweighted and always outrun. Jim Clark was prominent for seven furlongs, but failed to stay.

Scratched—358712 Rockwater, 122; 358712 Zoroaster, 117; 35887 Brunswick, 106; 35871 Remorse, 105; 35886 Potente, 104.

Lord Badge, show, 1 to 2. Glen Water, show, 2 to 5. Lux Casta, show, 1 to 3.

EASTERN TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

"There is one question upon which all horsemen are mute. That is the question as to which is the best two-year-old of the season. It is a question which no man can answer convincingly, a tangle which no man can unravel. It was hoped that the running of the Champagne Stakes at Morris Park on Saturday would indicate unerringly the champion of the year, but the running of the Champagne Stakes did nothing more than to make confusion worse confounded. For the running of this race introduced to the circle of claimants for premier honors a new figure in Mrs. L. Curtis's filly Eugenia Burch, by Ben Strome—The Humber. Previous to Saturday it was thought that the issue lay between Whitney & Duryea's Acefull and F. R. Hitchcock's Grey Friar, but to the amazement of horsemen of all classes the filly jumped out and beat both of them. It is true that Meltonian got up in time to beat her an eyelash on the wire and that she interfered with Acefull and Grey Friar, for which she very properly was disqualified, but for all that the glory of the race belongs to her. If her boy had kept her straight she must have won, and in any event she had Acefull and Grey Friar beaten to a standstill when the accident occurred," says the New York Evening Sun.

"The honors of the race cannot be denied to Eugenia Burch. She met Acefull and Grey Friar at equal weights and beat them fairly, and to Meltonian, who finished a head in front of her, she conceded fifteen pounds. Moreover, there was nothing fluky about her performance. She did not come along after Acefull and Grey Friar had raced their heads off. She was within striking distance of them at the head of the stretch and ready and able to go to them at any time Odom asked her to do so. She ran free and strong until the boy reached for his whip and in doing so let her head go. Then it was that she jostled Acefull, who in turn bumped into Grey Friar. The opinion that she would have won if Odom had kept her straight was so general as to be well nigh unanimous. When he got her straight she again raced strong, but the swerve lost the race for her, Meltonian just getting up in time to win. It was hard to lose such a prize after such a splendid performance, but the luck of the race was against her. Her admirers may hope for better fortune some other day and not be disappointed, for Eugenia Burch clearly is a filly of high class. At the Brighton meeting, when she won the filly half of the Produce Stakes and other good races, she probably was the best 2-year-old in training, and beyond the shadow of a doubt the best filly then racing. After this meeting, however, she went off a trifle, and it was not until the horses went to Westchester that she returned to her best form. With the filly half of the Matron Stakes to her credit, she set sail for Acefull and Grey Friar in the Champagne. How she took their measure, only to be beaten in the last stride by Meltonian, now is racing history, and it forms a chapter of which her admirers with good reason may be proud. Unfortunately, none of the get of her sire has trained on into greatness, but if she should prove to be an exception to the rule turfmen will be well pleased.

"When all is said and done it must be admitted that the Champagne was far from being a true race. In his riding of Acefull, Cochran did not display a particle of judgement. Racing over a seven furlong course he rode him as he might have ridden him if the distance had been five furlongs. The result was that Acefull was a very tired horse at the end of six furlongs. That he is a game horse he proved by the desperate struggle which he made in the final furlong. By his riding Cochran not only injured his own chances, but helped to destroy those of Grey Friar as well. Turner on the latter colt plainly feared to let Acefull get too far away from him, and to keep close to him he was obliged to send Grey Friar along at top speed. The inevitable happened when both colts tired badly at the end, although both struggled gamely until the race had been lost and won. Acefull is booked for the Derby, and because of the colors he will carry American horsemen will wish for him the best of good luck in the great English race next year. The colt will be shipped to England on a steamship sailing next week. If John Madden could be induced to go over to prepare him for the blue ribbon of the turf his owners would have reason to look forward to his chances of victory with a great deal more of hope, but Mr. Madden's racing and breeding interests at home are so large and so varied that he could not afford to abandon them, even temporarily.

"Although all the interest in the Champagne Stakes centered in the running of Acefull, Grey Friar and Eugenia Burch, turfmen did not forget to congratulate Mr. James A. Galway, the owner of the winner. Meltonian is an imported colt by the famous English horse Melton—Argenta, and was purchased by Mr. Galway at the dispersal sale of the Bitter Root stud last winter. His chances of developing into a good three-year-old are all the better for the fact that he was late in coming to hand and was not hurried in any way. Mr. Galway never races a big string, but it seldom happens that he is without a good horse. In recent years he has brought out such good ones as Ethelbert, Beldemere, Belmar and Adelbert. The latter two horses were gray in color and when at their best it would be hard to match them with any pair of grays that ever raced under a saddle. Meltonian is a solid bay of much substance and good conformation. As long ago as the Saratoga meeting, such a good judge as Dave Gideon offered $12,000 for him, but Mr. Galway believed that he was a colt of good class and could not be induced to part with him. In the result of the Champagne Stakes he believes that he has found justification for his refusal to sell.

"Unable to determine whether the two-year-old championship of 1902 belongs to Acefull, Grey Friar, Eugenia Burch or it may be Meltonian, Savable, Mexican or Irish Lad, horsemen are bound to ask how the two-year-olds of this year compare with those of other years. Undoubtedly the two-year-olds of this season collectively average high, but when that much is said everything that can be said in their favor is said. There is no colt of the quality of Commando or Domino or Hamburg—no colt which reigns over his fellows as these horses, each in his own year, reigned over them. In this year of grace the two-year-old championship is shrouded in a mist so dense as to be impenetrable. The admirers of any one of a half dozen or more two-year-olds may claim the championship for their favorite and attempt to prove his or her right to the title, but the evidence will be far from convincing to the supporters of the other claimants. The two-year-old championship of the season of 1902 must ever remain an open question, for with the passing of the Morris Park meeting must pass the opportunity of deciding it, and now it is as open as when the gates were first opened at the first meeting of the year. Gold Heels was the champion of the all aged division and Hermis admittedly is the king of the three-year-olds, but no man may rise and say that this or that colt or filly is the best two-year-old of the year.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The race mare Frances Reis died at Latonia Wednesday morning of hydrophobia. It required the combined efforts of a dozen stable hands to strap the suffering brute down in her stall, and in her dying struggle it was necessary to spike chains around her so that she could not break loose. The filly showed symptoms of the dread disease for the first time only a day or so ago, and her owners, Baker & Co., are at a loss to know what caused the animal to go mad. Frances Reis was a gray filly four years old. She was raced as a two-year-old by Lee Smitha, and showed remarkable speed.

Dick Welles, the crack two-year-old that defeated Savable at Chicago, is a bit the worse for wear at Morris Park. He caught cold last Saturday from being galloped in a drizzling rain and cooled out too quickly. Friday he was nearly all right again, but the setback may prevent him starting at Westchester. The New York public had hoped to see the King Eric colt pitted against some of the best of his age yet in training. His only two remaining stake engagements are the Autumn Serial Handicap for all ages on Thursday next and the White Plains Handicap for two-year-olds on the last day of the meeting. While he may keep one or both of these, trainers at the track will be agreeably surprised if he does.
